MAHNAZ ALIMARDANIAN
ANTHROPOLOGIST, NATIVE
TITLE SERVICES VICTORIA
Chair of Session 7

Mahnaz Alimardanian has worked as an anthropologist at Native Title Services Victoria since her graduation from La Trobe University in 2013. Apart from conducting research in relation to Traditional Owner settlement claims in Victoria, she is interested in alternative methods and techniques of communication that can be used in the claim process as well as for facilitating post settlement activities. In addition to her involvement in native title and applied anthropology, she has undertaken ethnographic research among Turkmen people of Iran, and Bandjaling people of New South Wales with a focus on performance and experience.

GRAHAM ATKINSON
DIRECTOR, NATIVE TITLE SERVICES VICTORIA
Panellist: The land beyond the Rubicon: Victoria under the Traditional Owner Settlement Act

Graham Atkinson is a Dja Dja Wurrung and Yorta Yorta man and an Aboriginal elder of national prominence. He serves on the Board of the Indigenous Land Corporation and is Deputy Chair of the National Centre for Indigenous Excellence. He is the Chairperson of both the Dja Dja Wurrung Clans Aboriginal Corporation and the indigenous joint venture company Barpa Construction Services Pty Ltd. He is a Director of NTSV and the Federation of Victorian Traditional Owner Corporations. Graham was on the Steering Committee for the Development of a Victorian Native Title Settlement Framework, which was instrumental in the development of the Traditional Owner Settlement Act (VIC).

THE HON JUSTICE MICHAEL BARKER
FEDERAL COURT JUDGE
Opening Address

Justice Barker was appointed a judge of the WA Supreme Court in 2002, and the Federal Court in 2009. His has long maintained an interest in indigenous peoples and the law. In the 1980s, he wrote extensively on the topic of Aboriginal land rights. After the commencement of the Native Title Act, he appeared as counsel for the claimants in the Miriuwung Gajerrong (Ward) and Ngarluma Yindjibarndi (Daniel) native title claims; and, early on, in the Wongatha claim. As a judge, he has been involved in a number of proceedings under the NTA, including the Banjima people’s claim, and appeals in James, Brown, Ngadju, and BP (deceased). He is currently reserved on the Badimia people’s claim and the Wyman & Brown River people’s appeals; and is part-heard on the Gibson Desert people’s compensation claim. Justice Barker is a member of the Federal Court’s recently established National Native Title Practice Committee, and also co-ordinates native title proceedings in WA.

VIRGINIE BRANCHUT
NATIVE TITLE CLAIMS COORDINATOR, NORTHERN LAND COUNCIL
Paper Title: ‘Short-form’ reports five years on: Anthropological reflections and future directions for the NLC

Virginie Branchut is an anthropologist currently employed at the Northern Land Council as the Native Title Claims coordinator. In 2008 Virginie and her family moved to the remote Aboriginal community of Maningrida in West Arnhem Land where until 2011 Virginie was working as the Maningrida Child Safety Service coordinator for Bawinanga Aboriginal Corporation. She then relocated to Darwin where she worked for Menzies School of Health Research for two years coordinating and delivering family programs in Indigenous communities in the Victoria-Daly Rivers area. Virginie has a BA in Anthropology and Mandarin and completed a Master’s Degree in Applied Anthropology and Participatory Development at the ANU, specialising in Indigenous Policy in Australia. Virginie’s current role has a strong focus on assisting the completion of anthropological connection reports mainly for pastoral leases native title consent determinations in the Northern Land Council region. Virginie is based at the main Northern Land Council office in Darwin.

SPEAKERS & PANELLISTS

KIM DE RIJKE
RESEARCH FELLOW, UNIVERSITY OF QUEENSLAND
Paper Title: Coal seam gas, native title and Indigenous Land Use Agreements in southern Queensland

Kim de Rijke is a postdoctoral research fellow in anthropology at The University of Queensland. His current comparative research project, funded by the school of social science, focuses on coal seam gas developments in the Darling Downs region of Queensland and the Northern Rivers region of New South Wales. Of particular interest in this project are competing visions of land use and nature among diverse societal groups in Australia, combined with the study of community politics, emplacement and belonging in postcolonial societies. In terms of Australian Aboriginal studies, he has undertaken eleven years of applied native title research, initially in the resource-rich region of the Kimberley in Western Australia, but particularly in the Bowen Basin of central Queensland. He continues that role as part-time consultant anthropologist for the University of Queensland Culture and Heritage Unit.

JESSICA JEEVES
POLICY DIRECTOR, BUSINESS COUNCIL OF AUSTRALIA
Panellist: Economic development and business opportunities

Jessica Jeeves joined the Business Council of Australia in 2012. Prior to her appointment as Policy Director, she was the BCA's Indigenous Engagement Adviser, working with the Indigenous Engagement Task Force and Business–Indigenous Network. Jessica came to the BCA from Reconciliation Australia where she managed the Indigenous governance program and worked as a senior policy adviser. Jessica has worked in remote Aboriginal communities in Western Australia and the Northern Territory, running community development, health and cultural projects. Jessica has also worked for the Coordinator General for Remote Indigenous Services and the Australian Indigenous Doctors’ Association on governance, health, communications, education and community development issues.

BIANCA LENA
SENIOR LEGAL OFFICER, SOUTH AUSTRALIA NATIVE TITLE SERVICES
Paper Title: Negotiating agreements in South Australia

Bianca currently works for the South Australian Native Title Services (or SANTS) as a senior legal officer. She has worked as a lawyer on a number of South Australian native title claims including the successful First Peoples of the River Murray and Mallee Region Native Title Claim, Far West Coast Native Title Claim, and Kokatha Peoples Native Title Claim. Bianca was also the South Australian member of the Law Council of Australia’s Indigenous Legal Issues Committee. Her role on this committee is to provide advice to the Council and Executive on specific topics referred to it and, where requested, to assist in the formulation of policies with respect to Indigenous Australians, the Australian legal system and the legal profession.

ANOUSHKA LENFFER
POLICY OFFICER, DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE, VICTORIA
Paper Title: Traditional owner agency and interrelationships under the State’s Threshold Guidelines

Anoushka Lenffer PSM is a policy officer in the Department of Justice, Victoria, and has been working in native title and land justice in south-eastern Australia since 1996. She was instrumental in the development of Victoria’s Threshold Guidelines for traditional owner groups seeking a native title settlement with the state under the Traditional Owner Settlement Act.
ADAM MCLEAN
PRINCIPLE LEGAL OFFICER,
CAPE YORK LAND COUNCIL

Paper Title: Large regional claims and settlement agreements

Adam McLean is Barrister and the Principle Legal Officer at Cape York Land Council. He has over twenty years' experience practising in native title and land rights, beginning as a solicitor with the NSW Aboriginal Legal Service and NSW Aboriginal Land Council, before moving to the Bar in 1999. Adam was the solicitor in the first claim lodged under the NTA (Wellington, NSW), and the first ILUA (Tumut ILUA Adelong NSW). He also advocated for the state wide settlement agreement for Victoria, and represented the first group to finalise a fully comprehensive settlement under the Victorian framework (Dja Dja Wurrung, central Victoria). Adam is the architect of the single claim for the entire representative body area for Cape York Land Council (Cape York QLD 2014), one of Australia’s largest claims, and is advocating for a Cape Wide Settlement program for the Cape.

CENTRE FOR NATIVE TITLE ANTHROPOLOGY, AUSTRALIAN NATIONAL UNIVERSITY

The Centre for Native Title Anthropology (CNTA) aims to enhance the practice of native title anthropology in Australia through a series of innovative programs and workshops for applied anthropologists. A unique collaboration between ANU and the Australian Government Attorney-General’s Department, the CNTA’s activities are delivered with the support of the School of Archaeology and Anthropology. The programs include an annual conference, workshops run in-house for NTRB/NTSP staff, research placements at the ANU, student fieldwork placements and a travel grant scheme. We also deliver a postgraduate course in native title anthropology which can also be taken for professional development and will be offered again in April 2015.

The CNTA’s programs address an identified need to provide greater opportunities for anthropologists working in native title to build the kinds of skills, academic confidence and professional networks that support quality native title research. Our core mission is to support career pathways by initiating and growing linkages between academic and applied practice and supporting the development of a community of practice. The CNTA is funded until 2016.

NATIVE TITLE SERVICES VICTORIA

Native Title Services Victoria Ltd (NTSV) is the peak legal service representing native title claimants in Victoria. With in-house research expertise in anthropology, history and archaeology providing the crucial foundations for legal negotiations, NTSV also assists Traditional Owners to realise their economic and natural resource management aspirations. NTSV’s achievements prevail against the common view that native title as a doctrine would have little application in Southern Australia. Victoria now has four successful determinations of native title covering much of the crown land of the State and one settlement under the Traditional Owner Settlement Act.
